

The SPRUCE project page ...

The SPRUCE Project is led by Leeds University Library, working in partnership with The British Library, Digital Preservation Coalition, London School of Economics, and Open Planets Foundation. The five partners will collaborate to develop a strategy for engaging the academic community around digital preservation and will also contribute technical expertise and solutions.