

16 – 18 May 2011 | Digital Preservation Training Programme

The Digital Preservation Coalition is pleased to offer five fully funded scholarships to attend the Digital Preservation Training Programme at George House, North Hanover Street, Glasgow, 16th - 18th May 2011.

The Digital Preservation Training Programme (DPTP) is designed for all those working in institutional information management who are grappling with fundamental issues of digital preservation. It provides the skills and knowledge necessary for institutions to combine organisational and technological perspectives and devise an appropriate response to the challenges that digital preservation needs present. DPTP is operated and organised by the University of London Computer Centre with contributions from invited experts. It is supported by the Digital Preservation Coalition which originally helped to establish the course in 2005. There is more detail about the course online at <http://www.dptp.org/>

Attendance at the DPTP costs 780GBP per person (including VAT). However, in May 2011 the Digital Preservation Coalition is pleased to offer five fully funded scholarships which meet the costs of the course. Applications are welcomed from DPC members and associates. The scholarship covers all tuition fees, course materials, access to online resources, lunch and refreshments. Travel, accommodation and subsistence are not funded.

This is the fifth time the DPC has offered scholarships to attend DPTP and is the first time that scholarships have been available outside of London. Prospective applicants may wish to watch an interview with previous recipients and attendees online at: <http://www.dptp.org/about/videos/> Successful applicants will be asked to help promote the course and the work of the coalition. The DPC has supported a total of eighteen scholarships to attend this course.

Eligibility:

The scholarship is available to DPC members, associates and personal members. A full list of eligible institutions is supplied at the end of this document. Prospective members may also apply. Only one scholarship is available per member per round. The scholarship is not available to non-members and individuals that have previously attended DPTP. This will be the last opportunity that RLUK member can apply for support from the DPC Leadership Programme.

How to apply:

Applications should be received no later than 12:00 on Friday 29th April 2011 by email to support@dpconline.org. They should be no more than three pages (A4) and should include:

- a covering letter which matches the application to the criteria below
- a one page CV of the applicant
- the explicit approval from your line manager or other senior executive
- a short statement indicating your relationship to a DPC member institution.

The covering letter should describe:

- The role that DPTP will play in your career development
- The benefits that accrue to a DPC member from your attendance at DPTP
- Your function in your organisation and how this relates to Digital Preservation

Preference will be given to: junior staff and digital preservation practitioners who have not previously attended external digital preservation training; staff who would not otherwise be able to attend specialist training; and staff who will be able to apply learning outcomes of the course or specific modules directly and speedily to their work. Applicants should mention if any of these conditions pertain to their own applications.

Applications will be assessed by a selection committee on the above criteria whose decision is final. Successful applicants will be notified on or before 4th May 2011.

Conditions of grant

It is our aim that the scholarship will deliver benefits to a DPC member, so the DPC makes only limited requirements of recipients. Recipients will be asked to present a short written report within 6 months of the grant showing how support from the DPC has helped career development and how the DPC's support has brought practical benefits to their employer. They may also be called on to act as informal ambassadors for Coalition from time to time.

We recommend that any member organisation which supports an application discusses appropriate outcomes and benefits for the institution prior to submission. Moreover, because only one grant is available per member institution, we recommend that applicants ensure that they are not inadvertently competing with colleagues.

Eligible individuals

Personal members of the DPC are eligible to apply for these scholarships.

Applicants from the Archives and Records Association should contact Sarah Higgins or John Chambers before applying. Applicants from JISC should contact Neil Grindley (JISC), applicants from RLUK should contact Mike Mertens (RLUK), applicants from Research Council projects and institutions should contact Paul Gemill (RCUK) and applicants from Creative Scotland should contact Jaine Lumsden. Applicants from the Publishers' Licensing Society should contact the DPC offices in the first instance.

The DPC may pass the details of the application to designated contacts within these organisations as part of their assessment.

Prospective members

Prospective members of the DPC are eligible for these scholarships. Organisations or individuals seeking to join the DPC should file their membership applications by 20th April 2011 to qualify.

Other grants from the DPC Leadership Programme

It is expected that we will offer scholarships to attend DPTP again in autumn 2011 though the number and date have not been confirmed.

This is the last time that RLUK member institutions will be able to apply from support from the DPC Leadership Programme.

The DPC Leadership programme seeks to support all relevant training so that members and their workforces can more quickly develop the skills necessary to ensure that our digital memory is available tomorrow. In addition to supporting our members' workforces the DPC seeks to reduce the risks that training providers face when developing and providing courses relevant to digital preservation.

Providers of such training courses are invited to discuss with the DPC Executive whether these would be appropriate for grants from the DPC Leadership Programme.
