

Digital Preservation Officer

Salary: £37,937-£44,059 per annum plus benefits

Location: London

Position Type: Full-time, fixed term (2 years)

Closing date: 29th May 2013

The British Library is currently recruiting for a Digital Preservation Officer to join the Digital Preservation Team at the British Library. This is a rare and exciting opportunity to work at the cutting edge of international digital preservation research & development, and help ensure the Library can preserve its digital collections far into the future. Working closely with colleagues from across the Library, the successful candidate will be part of our digital preservation R&D team and contribute to the successful delivery of the Library's new digital preservation strategy. The post holder will work with digital material in a wide range of formats, exploring and analysing our options to help us identify the most appropriate means of safeguarding our digital collections for future generations. This is a London-based post, fixed term for two years.
