

The winner of the 2007 Digital Preservation Award was announced by Loyd Grossman at the British Museum on the 27th of September 2007. The National Archives was awarded the prestigious Award at the Conservation Awards ceremony.

For more information about all the Conservation Award winners and event please go to Conservation Awards Website

The Winning Team from The National Archives; Fleur Soper, Alison Heatherington, Adrian Brown and Robert Taylor

The 2007 Digital Preservation Award trophy

Frances Doyle, DPC Executive Director, with Ronald Milne, DPC Chair of the Board of Directors

Adrian Brown from The National Archives receives the winning cheque from Loyd Grossman

Bory Melod from LIFE

Susan Thomas, Robert Citeseer, Eric Baker from PARADIGM

DEIMMO, Jakob, and Schoger, Susanne Dobratz, Raivo Ruusalepp TRAC, nestor and

Philp Beresford from The Web Curator Tool

Conservation winners, judges and organisers