

Digital Preservation Team
CoSector, University of London

Our training offerings...

CoSECTOR UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Meet the team

▶ Steph Taylor

- ▶ Library and repositories background
- ▶ ‘Born digital’ - since 1990s
- ▶ Consultant, trainer, project manager, digital preservation expert

▶ Ed Pinsent

- ▶ Archivist / records manager background
- ▶ “Went digital” in 2004
- ▶ Consultant, trainer, web-archivist, project manager, digital preservation expert

Training in digital preservation

- ▶ We've been providing a respected service since 2005, starting with the Digital Preservation Training Programme
- ▶ Have taken this course to the TNA, United Nations, National Library of Ireland, and others
- ▶ Now moving into offering an online training service
- ▶ A Beginner's Guide to Digital Preservation will be launched in 2017

CoSECTOR UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Structure of the training

- ▶ Online training - our plans (and dreams!)
- ▶ Developing courses with the help of the DP community
- ▶ Offering a flexible approach to respond to changing needs
- ▶ Modular courses -
 - ▶ Supporting a 'pick and choose' approach for our users
 - ▶ Supporting 'pathways' for specific sectors and requirements
- ▶ Continued Professional Development for everyone (or as many people as we can help!)

Content of the training

- ▶ Entry-level course, explaining key concepts, demystifying the jargon, encouraging critical thinking
- ▶ Topics covered include:
 - ▶ Digital Preservation approaches
 - ▶ File formats and tools you can use
 - ▶ Managed Storage
 - ▶ Metadata for preservation
 - ▶ Assessment and audit regime for repositories
 - ▶ Risk assessment
 - ▶ Planning
 - ▶ Legal issues
 - ▶ Making content accessible to users
 - ▶ And more...

Free course on the OAIS Model

- ▶ Try our free course
- ▶ A user-friendly explanation of the OAIS Reference Model
- ▶ Register at this link - <http://bit.ly/2k01iwx>

